Where King Carnival Holds Sway

Upper—The Tozier party at Kent House: a snow-ball fight. Lower left—Ski-joring with motorcycle.

Special holiday festivities at Christmas, including a superb fireworks display at the Chateau Frontenac opened the two months winter sports season programme of the Frontenac Club at Quebec City. These continued all Christmas week and were followed on December 30 by the international intercollegiate ski competition in which two entries from Yale and entries from McGill, Loyola and University of Montreal at Montreal, Ottawa College at that city, and Laval University of Quebec, competed in a five-mile cross country ski race and in ski jumping. The former was won by McGill and the latter by Loyola while Loyola also won the Frontenac Winter Sports Club trophy for the best aggregate of points in the competition.

The opening of the New Year was featured by hockey games in one of which Princeton University played a Quebec team, Sons of Ireland, and were defeated. There were also bob-sled races and ski-joring.

Continuance of fine weather and favorable snow conditions have brought the winter sports well into their stride and after the first American invasion by the Dr. Tozier party of about 270 people from Boston, there came a further descent of many tourists from various states in the Union to partake of the keen, invigorating air and exhilarating sport offered in such abundance. Both the first and all succeeding parties put up at the Chateau Frontenac. Individual groups from across the line are also swelling the list of guests and it may be mentioned that two Shea Tours are scheduled to arrive at Quebec next month.

The combination of the last word in luxury at the Chateau Frontenac with every variety of winter sports right at the door of that continent-known hostel accounts for the large influx of visitors. Skiing can be indulged in with no delay or discomfort as skis may be put on in the hotel and then one steps right out on to crisp even snow runs and jumps. Skating is catered to by a rink that is located right on the famous Dufferin Terrace onto which the hotel opens. A half-mile toboggan run, brilliantly illuminated at night, sends the devotees of this form of sport whizzing at a 60-mile an hour clip straight up to the main entrance of the hotel. These are only a few of the winter pleasures so lavishly furnished.

For those who prefer to take their outings more seriously and with a greater expenditure of energy, excursions on snow-shoes or skis have been arranged which will carry the enthusiast to places famous in history, such as Ste. Anne de Beaupre, the Montmorency Falls, and across the ice bridge over the St. Lawrence to the Island of Orleans.

High lights in the winter sports programme take in international hockey matches, of which Princeton-Sons of Ireland is a fair example. The same Quebec team will also meet a team from Dartmouth University. The big noises are, however, two February 6 and 7 sees the holding of the International Snowshoe Union during which world and Canadian Championship snowshoe races will be run. It is expected that nearly 3,000 uniformed snowshoers will be present from all over Canada and the United States. All sorts of old-world French-Canadian customs and unique features will distinguish this event.

Following the Mardi Gras festival and carnival on February 16 the international Dog Derby will be held February 18-19-20. It will cover 135 miles in all and will be over a distance of 45 miles a day. Many teams from Eastern and Western Canada, from the New England States, and even as far as Chicago are scheduled to take part.

The Curling Bonspiel week and open championship Bob Sled races will bring the season to a conclusion February 27. One of the most popular features of recent years is the team of husky-dogs under the guidance of Arthur Beauvais the well-known Indian guide, and led by the redoubtable "Mountie", which takes passengers for long mushes across country and which are sometimes used to pull ski-ers.

CHAPTER I YOUTH MARCHES

"Look at 'em come, Jessie! More and more! Must be forty or fifty families."

Molly Wingate, middle-aged, portly, dark browed and strong stood at the door of the rude tent which for the time made her home. She was pointing down the road which lay like an eery ribbon thrown down across the prairie grass, bordered beyond by the timber-grown bluffs of the Missouri.

Jessie Wingate allowed his team of harness-marked horses to continue their eager drinking at the watering hole of the little stream near which the camp was pitched until their thirst quenched, they began burying their muzzles and blowing into the water in sensuous enjoyment. He stood, a strong and tall man of perhaps forty-five years, of keen blue eye and short, close-matted, tawny beard. His garb was the loose dress of the outlying settler of the Western lands three-quarters of a century ago. A farmer he must have been back home.

Could this encampment, on the very front of the American civilization, now be called a home? Beyond the prairie road could be seen a double furrow of jet-black glistening sod, framing the green grass and its spangling flowers, first browsing of the plow on the virgin soil. It might have been the opening of a farm. But if so, why the crude bivouac? Why the gear of travellers? Why the mased arklike wagons, the scores of morning fires lifting lazy blue wreaths of smoke against the morning mists?

The truth was that Jessie Wingate, earlier and impatient on the front, out of the very suppression of energy, had been trying his plow in the first white furrows beyond the Missouri in the great year of 1848. Four hundred other near-by plows were avid for the soil of Oregon; as witness this long line of newcomers, late at the frontier rendezvous.

"It's the Liberty wagons from down river," said the campmaster at length. "Missouri movers and settlers from lower Illinois. It's time. We can't lie here much longer waiting for Missouri or Illinois either. The grass is up. Well, we'd have to wait for Molly to end her spring term, teaching in Clay School, in Lib-in Liberty," rejoined his wife, "ese why'd we send her there to graduate? Twelve dollars a month cash money ain't to be sneezed at."

"No nor is two thousand miles of trail between here and Oregon before snow to be sneezed at,"

CHAUVIN AND WAINWRIGHT TIE

The Hockey game between Chauvin and Wainwright Wednesday last resulted in a 4-4 tie. Chauvin opened the scoring when Bill Christie found the net with a hard shot three minutes from the start and Wainwright evened up at the close of the period.

The second period was feathred by combination plays and nice individual efforts. Chauvin was very much in the picture getting two more goals while Wainwright failed to score. A pretty oal was scored when the two Christie boys and Pierce combined to beat the Wainwright defence, Pierce taking the shot on a perfect pass from Bill Christie. The other goal was scored when Bill picked up a loose puck in front of Wainwright nets.

Rodden had hard luck when the Wainwright custodian blocked his shot after he had gone through the whole Wainwright team on a beautiful lone rush.

In the third period Wainwright pressed very hard and were successful in getting three counters while Chauvin only got one, Clark Christie bagging that one on a nice individual effort. Burton played a fine ame in goal, stopping a bunch of hard ones. The team was greatly weakened, Bissett being unable to make the trip to Wainwright on account of sickness. McTigue showed up well, his checking being effective and his passes good. For Wainwright Lang, Habkirk and York were dangerous at all times.

The game was fast and clean, The bell being handled in an able manner by E. Cork.

BIG ORDER FROM BRITAIN

There is dominion wide interest in the news contained in the patch from London, Engand, stating th that lumber firm has received an order from one of the greatest of the British railway groups for 26,000,000 feet of Douglas fir railway ties. The cable despatch stated this information came from high officias of the railways concerned. "It is pointed out", reads the despatch "in the same circles that this is more than British Columbia's total exports to Great Britain were in 1923. This order breaks the buying tradition for more than a century," one authority states. "British railway ties heretofore have been made from Baltic pine. For the first time the British railways have declared their intention of giving preference to the price and other conditions are equal. Also for the first time a great British railway group has inserted in its conditions of tender that preference is to be given to Canadian timber." The British Admiralty also decided recently to use Douglas fir for the decks and bulwarks of new battleships and the British Board of Trade has agreed to use Douglas fir and silver spruce in the construction of both rowing and motor life-boats.

EXPERIMENTAL FARM NOTE

Approximately 200 acres are devoted to investigational work in crop rotation at the Scott Experiment experimental work is to determine what sequence of crops is most profitable. With this object in view, records are kept each year of all items of expense and returns, based on current prices paid during each year.

The rotation followed by the majority of farmers in Northwest-ern Saskatchewan consists of three year rotation namely, first year—summerfallow, second year—wheat and third year—wheat. This rotation has not proven as profitable at Scott as a six year rotation consisting of first year—wheat, third year—wheat, fourth year—oats seeded down, fifth year—hay and sixth year—hav or pasture. The system followed in seeding down is to mix the west-ern rve grass and sweet clover with the oats and sow the mixture with the grain drill at the rate of 2 bushels of oats, 12 pounds of western rve grass and 6 pounds of sweet clover per acre. By this method no difficulty has been experienced in obtaining a catch of grass during the fourteen years this rotation has been in operation. The six year rotation returned 1.35 more per acre for the last five years of operation than the three years rotation and 1.02 more per acre for the fourteen years. The results of the analysis of soil samples shows that there is a loss of nitrogen organic matter from exclusive grain growing but that the amount of these constituents has been maintained or increased by including one or more hay crops in a rotation. The good yields obtained from the six year rotation may be attributed to the fact that the soil is increasing in fertility rather than running out.

Who is wise ? He that learns from everyone. Who is powerful? He that governs his passion. Who is rich? He that is content. Who is that? Nobody.

BURNS' LAST POEM

The Toronto Mail and Empire of recent date had the following poem by Robert Burns, written to his nurse, Miss Jessie Lewars, a few days before he died, his wife "Bonnie Jean," being ill. Miss Lewars afterwards married a man named Thompson, who thought it had been published. The Thompsons later moved to New Zealand and just lately it was discovered there.

"How often in the dreary night I clasp my burning hands,
Upon those thobbing, sleepless lids, o'er eyes like glowing brands,
And wonder in my weary brain, if haply, when I'm dead,
My old boon friends, for love of me, will give my bairnies bread.

Oh, did the poor not help the poor, each in their simple way,
With humble gift and kindly word, God pity them, I say.
For many a man who clasped my hand, with pledges o'er the bowl
When the wine halo passed away, proved but a niggard soul.
Oh, wilt thou gang o' nights, Jessie, tae my forsaken hearth
And be a thou hast been tae me, the truest friend on earth?
Sae swa'ly in your lantie voice, sing a' my weans tae rest
While Jamie leans her weary head upon thy loving breast."
